Dealing with Dementia with Dignity for Home Health Aides

Wednesday, February 15, 2012

Webinar
2:30 - 3:35 PM CST

Participants will receive an email confirmation after they register. The email will include a link and instructions on how to participate in the webinar. You will need speakers for your computer to hear the audio portion of the presentation.

Conference Program

The Nebraska Association of Home and Community Health Agencies (NAHCHA) is offering an educational webinar that will provide information to help home health aides develop skills to help them provide care for persons with Dementia.

Lori Scroggin, LPN

Lori is a certified Dementia care manager. She earned an LPN from Central Community College. Her position at Central Plains Home Health and Hospice requires Lori to coordinate and oversee all aspects of patient care, including social and activity aspects as well as nursing.

Lori facilitated a support group for family, caregivers and loved ones of Alzheimers patients and serves on the Speakers Bureau for the Alzheimer's Association. She taught classes and trained her staff on the Unit in Dementia Care.

Conflict of Interest Statement

This speaker has no perceived financial, professional or personal conflict of interest.

Webinar Objectives

1. State how Dementia effects all aspects of a person's daily life.
2. Enhance communication skills for interacting with a person with Dementia.
3. Develop basic techniques to effectively provide optimal personal cares for one with Dementia.

No contact hours are awarded.

Nebraska Association of Home and Community Health Agencies (NAHCHA) is an approved provider of continuing nursing education by the Nebraska Nurses Association, an accredited approver by the American Nurses Credentialing Center's Commission on Accreditation.
